7. REQUEST TO ADDRESS COUNCIL:

- a. Kevin Parris, Spartanburg Community College's Horticulture department presented the master landscape design for the downtown area. He mentioned that Jimmy Walters of the South Carolina Forestry Commission told him about our project and our need for a landscape design plan. The students were told to envision the next 2 or 4 generations and not what is here now. Started aerial photographs, then progressed to paper using the Milone park design plan. They worked all semester, taking real world measurements down to scale. A veteran did the monument area and created a path of honor with names in the bricks of the Town veterans. The plan design will include removing Pacific Street, reducing the asphalt and its runoff, adding playgrounds and connecting with the amphitheater and Farmers Market. An advance class will continue the design this summer. Also, we wanted to slow down Groce, so will have 5 greenway medians with trident maples and 9" curbs. The sidewalks will not be adjacent to the road, at 5 to 6 feet wide and 3 feet from the curb. Mayor asked for a copy of presentation to be placed on the website. Owens asked for the island dimensions, Parris said 100 feet long, by 10 feet wide. Wyatt said that he liked the medians. A student presented the plan for the electric substation that will have a green wall attached to the fence. Also, the playground will be a net zero park with all water collected and recycled. Pacific Street area will have a reflecting pond for irrigation in the park. The bathrooms will have solar and heat panels. The amphitheater will have porous concrete with an eco classroom for demonstrating the different plantings. Their goal is to have people find Lyman.
- b. Dana Ballew spoke to Council and said that she and her husband have been in business 15 years. The last couple of months they have been harassed about the portable sign at Custom Auto. 10 days later was told to take it down. Salter said they needed to take it down, they didn't and he gave her a permit to apply, her husband told her to get the permit. When she came to Town Hall she was told the sign ordinance did not allow for temporary signs but she noticed other portable signs not taken down like Verizon. They decided they would leave the sign up and would not renew the sign once the month ran out. Husband rode by and noticed the sign had been taken down. When Ballew called the sign company regarding her sign the owner said that Mr. Salter had called and told him they had several complaints about the sign and that it was against the town ordinance and if he didn't take it down, the Town would. The owner came and picked his sign up. This gentleman still owns several signs that are in the area and those signs were not taken down. For 5 years catering van has been parked in same spot against wall with tag on but the sticker is not current due to tag being stolen before. Gentleman came in and told my husband he needed to put the tag on the van. Tag is on the van but we carry the sticker with us and the only way he could of known that is for the gentleman to get out of his car and walk up to the van and look due to the way it has been parked. Mayor said he did not know about the van, but Council passed last month a temporary sign ordinance and can now use a portable sign. He continued that the Police did not have the manpower to enforce this before and feels he is not picking on you. For now till January 1 can have sign and almost confident still have temporary signs on your premises. Ballew said she was not here for the new ordinance, ours was taken down and no other signs were and to this day there are portable signs out there that have not been taken down. Mayor responded it was a coincidence not taken down. Mayor added that it was about business and tired of people saying Town employees told not to eat at café and she should submit in writing
